

CLERK'S OFFICE ALERT

FAMILY LAW ORIENTATION (FLO)

King County Local Family Law Rule 20(b) requires all unrepresented parties to actions filed under Revised Code of Washington (RCW) chapter 26.09 – which includes dissolutions of marriage, legal separations, and parenting plan modifications – to attend the Family Law Orientation within 30 days of filing or receipt of service. Parties to other family law actions who do not have an attorney are encouraged, but not required, to attend. The FLO provides information on court procedures, court rules, and resources for parties involved in family law actions who are without attorney representation.

Schedules and Registration:

Please visit <http://www.kingcounty.gov/courts/FamilyCourt/services/FLO.aspx> for current schedules, fee and registration information. There are several days/times available each week in Kent and Seattle. Pre-registration is encouraged. Parties may attend the FLO as a walk-in participant, provided there is no Domestic Violence Protection Order, Restraining Order, or No Contact Order involving parties in the case.
